DESERONTO

The funeral obsequies of the late Mrs. Kenneth Bowen took place from St. Mark's Church, Deseronto, on January 7th. The late Mrs. Bowen was very popular in the town and vicinity, where she has lived all her life, and will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. The greatest sympathy was in evidence for the bereaved husband and family. The service was conducted by the Rev. E. Radcliffe, Rector, Rev. A. H. [illegible] reading the lesson, assisted by the Organist and surpliced Choir. Floral tributes and a goodly congregation testified to the feeling of sorrow that was present. Everything that could be done was done to save life, but God called and the summons has to be obeyed. The chief mourners were Mr. Kenneth Bowen and Mrs. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Albert McNeil, Port Hope; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bowen, Miss Gertrude Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bowen, Toronto, and Mrs. Putnam. The pall bearers were Messrs. Bert Long, H. Aylsworth, [illegible] Messrs. Crossman, Putnam, [illegible] and Crossman. The beautiful decorations for the great Xmas festival combined with the [illegible] of Prayer, Chant and Hymn made the service a most solemn [illegible], and one long to be remembered.

We hope he will soon be able to return to his home here.

HOCKEY

Schedule of Games in Bay of Quinte Hockey League.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Bay of Quinte Hockey League was held in Napanee on Friday evening, those present being Dr. R. P. Millan, Kingston; R. F. Haskett, Point Anne; W. H. Roe, Napanee; Albert B. Root, Secretary-Treasurer. Belleville was unrepresented, but submitted open dates for their home games.

Each club filed with the Secretary their list of registered players and also deposited the entry fee.

The following schedule was then drafted for the first half of the series:—

Jan. 11—Napanee at Belleville.
12—Point Anne at Kingston.
15—Belleville at Point Anne.
18—Point Anne at Napanee.
18—Kingston at Belleville.
23—Point Anne at Belleville.
25—Napanee at Point Anne.
26—Belleville at Kingston.
30—Kingston at Point Anne.
30—Belleville at Napanee.
Feb. 4—Kingston at Napanee.
(Open) —Napanee at Kingston.

A meeting of the Executive will be held at Napanee, on Monday evening, Feb. 4th, immediately after the game between Kingston and Napanee, at which the second half of the schedule will be drafted. The schedule will be reversed, that is Belleville will play their first game at Napanee, etc.

Kingston 6, Napanee 6.

The local hockey season was opened at the Arena on Tuesday evening, with an exhibition game between Granites, champions of Kingston City League, and the local team. A large crowd turned out to see the Napanee boys in action, as much speculation has been going the rounds as to how Manager Roe's outfit would conduct themselves, due to the fact that Napanee has lost several of last year's players. The local sextette are nearly all home-brews, and considerable credit is due them for the sterling performance turned in on Tuesday evening. Finn and Babcock, alternating in goal, were up to expectations. Notwithstanding the fact that Kingston ran in three goals in succession on Babcock in the second period, this stellar goal-tender turned in a remarkable game, clearing several shots that looked good for counters. L. Spencer and Bentley, on the defence, worked well together, although the former's error in leaving Bentley alone in the third period was probably responsible for one of the visitors' goals. Bentley was in unusual form for a youngster, and will improve as the season progresses. Huffman and Ivan Spencer, two of last year's team, showed their old-time superiority and are getting better all the time. Naphin, a new man, while not fast, is a good stickhandler, and put up a good game. L. Douglas, H. Johnson and Martin were used as substitutes, and were always in the game. The locals were not in as good condition as the visitors, but this is accountable for by the fact that the late season prevented Mr. Blute from getting a sheet of ice on the rink until last Friday night, and the boys have only had a couple of practices.

For the visitors, Smith and Bellringer were the outstanding figures, and Holman in goal put up a good game.

The game was well worth watching and the spectators went away well satisfied with the evening's performance.

The Kingston boys were anxious to return home on the 10.30 train, and for that reason the tie was not played off.

Mr. Geo. T. Walters referred the game in his usual satisfactory manner.

Following is the line-up:—

Napanee at Belleville.

The opening game of the Bay of Quinte Hockey League will take place at Belleville this (Friday) evening, between 34th Battery, of Belleville, and Napanee. Manager Roe has his team in fine fettle and expects to get the big end of the score. Ray Gilmore, of Point Anne, will referee the game.

The second game of the series will take place at Kingston to-morrow night, when Point Anne meets the Young Irishmen. Geo. T. Walters, of Napanee, will handle this game.

Games Scheduled.

Tuesday, Jan. 15th.—Belleville at Point Anne.
Friday, Jan. 18th.—Point Anne at Napanee.
Friday, Jan. 18th.—Kingston at Belleville.

BATH

Mrs. Harry Mott, who has been ill, is able to be out again.—School has re-opened with the same staff of teachers as before the holidays.—The concert put on by an Indian entertainer, in the Town Hall, on New Years night, under the auspices of the Methodist Sunday School, was not very well attended, owing to the icy roads.—The municipal elections were held on Monday, with the following results:—Reeve, M. H. Mellow; Councillors, J. A. Tompkins, Fred Hagerman, Fred Lloyd and Fred Thorigal; School Trustees, Dr. Northmore, Max Robinson and F. G. Young, all elected by acclamation.—Mrs. George Davy is spending a few days in Napanee with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Mellow.

NEWBURGH

For some unaccountable reason the report of municipal nomination day proceedings was not completed in last week's correspondence from Newburgh. Though perhaps a little late we will now supply the information lacking. Next year's Council all went in by acclamation. Two of the old Councillors withdrew, Messrs. Shorts and Shane, and their places were supplied by two new men, Messrs. Gerow and Walroth, and the Council for 1924 stands as follows:— Thos. McNeely, Reeve; Thos. Milsap, Geo. B. Paul, Frank Gerow and John Walroth, Councillors. It is no sinecure to occupy the place of Reeve and Councillors of a municipality, and we bespeak the sympathic support of the citizens, reserving to ourselves the right to point out any delinquencies that become too apparent. The municipality starts the year in a much better condition financially than last year.

We wish to draw the attention of the citizens of Newburgh to some facts with regard to the Public Library. The Library is useful and necessary if we wish to maintain our status as an intelligent community, but it cannot exist on air. While the municipality gives it a small grant, this amount is but a percentage of what is required to run it; the balance has to come out of the pockets of those who benefit by it. These should be every man and woman who wants to do the best for themselves or their families. To stint ourselves or our families in the matter of good reading is poor economy. Those who do take out books should be willing to pay the necessary small fee, and return them promptly.

Miss Jean Ramsay goes this week to take a business course in Kingston.

Miss McGowen, of the Public School staff, who has been somewhat indisposed, has gone to her home in Toronto to recruit.

Ted. Wilde, a student in the High School, son of Mr. William Wilde, near Selby, was taken to Kingston Hospital on Sunday to undergo an operation for appendicitis. We understand that he passed the operation successfully, and is doing as well as could be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Farley and children, of Kingston, spent the New Year with Mr. Farley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Farley.

Miss Annie May Sutton is spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sutton.

Mr. David Lawson, an employee at the Lennox Paper Mill, who lives in Newburgh, was suddenly called to Cornwall to attend the funeral of his brother's wife, who was the victim in a drowning accident.

MORVEN

Mr. Silas Clark spent Sunday at Mr. Henwood's.—Mr. Fred Burley, who has been very ill with pneumonia is somewhat better at time of writing.—Miss Crozier and Miss Madeline Mills, after a brief illness, were able to resume their respective duties on Monday.—Mr. Morley Hart is taking a business course in Kingston. We wish him every success.— Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Merrick and Miss Mary visited at Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kayler's, recently. — The Misses Horne, of Wolfe Island, visited their sister, Mrs. Harold Vanalstine, during the past week.—Quite a number attended the Ladies' Aid quilting held at the home of the President, Mrs. G. H. Clark, on Wednesday.—Mrs. W. B. Clark, of Switzerville, spent a few days with her friend, Mrs. Burley.— Mrs. Robt. Jackson and Mr. Jack Jackson visited Mr. and Mrs. Claud Knight, Napanee, on Sunday.—The League will be held in the Brick Church on Friday evening, in charge of Mrs. Winters.—A practise for the concert will be held after the League meeting.

CAMDEN EAST

Sunday morning registered the coldest of the season, 12 below zero. We had a heavy fall of snow on Saturday and Sunday.—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Amey started to go away on New Years day, but at Bicknell's Corners the holdback broke, and the horse ran away, throwing them both out and breaking the cutter. Mrs. Amey was hurt quite badly, but is improving at time of writing.—Mrs. Henderson, who has been quite ill for three weeks, was no better at time of writing.—The Camden East paper mills shut down on Saturday last for repairs, but opened again on Monday. —The C. N. R. has put an electric light at the station, which makes it very convenient for the travelling public.—Mr. Will Peters had the misfortune to cut his head quite badly while at work at the Lennox paper mills.—Mr. and Mrs. T. Lambert and little child, of Petworth, spent a day last week with his brother, Mr. John Lambert, and family.—Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Saundercook have returned to Collins Bay, after spending the Xmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Youmans.—Mr. and Mrs. Will Peters and son, Charles, spent Sunday last with his parents, south of the village.—Mr. and Mrs. John Border and Mr. and Mrs. John Tipson spent Tuesday last in Napanee.

BETHANY

Winter has come at last, and for the last week it has made itself felt. —Monday was a busy day, it being Election Day.—Mr. Wm. Goodman has returned home from his visit at Picton.—The Ladies' Aid are holding a social evening at Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Miller's, on January 16th. Ladies are requested to bring either cake or sandwiches. Don't forget the date.— Mr. Walter Hicks has gone to Oshawa to spend the winter.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clarke are visiting at their son's, Frank Clarke. — Miss Marion Miller is spending a week in Oshawa, visiting her uncle, Mr. Harry Miller.

THE ELECTION RETURNS

The municipal election on Monday brought out a larger vote than a year ago. The day was fine and clear, but the storm of Sunday put the roads in a bad condition and it was difficult for cars to get around.

Mark Graham polled a major vote for Reeve and defeated Fred. A. Perry by 160 votes. The new candidates for seats at the Council Board were all elected, with the exception of Mr. Cowling. Of the 1923 Council, Thos. Huffman polled the largest vote. The defeat of Councillor Tustin is to be regretted, as he was one of the hardest and most conscientious workers in the Council.

In Richmond, Paul defeated Tummon by a small majority; North Fredericksburgh returned W. H. Milling, while South Fredericksburgh did the same for John L. Smith; in Bath a very close election was won by M. H. Mellow, and in Ernesttown, W. C. T. Loyst came back by defeating Eugene Smith for Reeve, and Ross Peters was re-elected as Deputy Reeve.

Following are the returns:—

NAPANEE.

	West Ward		Centre Ward		East

Geo. J. Tustin	61	59	61	73	51	305
Victor Cowling	82	67	45	52	34	280

The first six Councillors are elected.

While the returns were being tabulated Mayor MacGregor briefly thanked the electorate for the honor conferred upon him by returning him by acclamation to the Mayor's chair for a second term.

Reeve-elect Graham was very grateful to all those who worked so faithfully for his election, and he would do his very best during the coming year to look after the interests of the town and county.

Mr. Perry was disappointed that Reeve-elect Graham had not announced his candidature earlier. He said they switched horses on him in the middle of the stream and he lost his footing. However, he was glad that Mr. Graham was elected, as he is a very capable man and would make a splendid representative.

Councillor Simpson said this was the proudest moment of his life, as he was tickled to death to have headed the poll. He would do his best to further the interests of the town during the coming year.

Councillor Jewell thanked the electors for the honor conferred upon him and promised to use his best judgment in dealing with the town's affairs during the coming year.

Councillor Huffman was very pleased at the large vote given him and would continue to serve the best interests of the town during 1924 as he had last year.

Councillor Dunbar said this was a new experience for him and hoped he would merit the confidence reposed in him. He thanked the electors for their support.

Councillor Paul was glad he was re-elected. We should have our minutes printed in book form and then the electors could take a copy home and read it over and thus see what each member of the Council has accomplished during the year. He appreciated the vote given him and would continue to serve the town to the best of his ability.

Councillor Burgess was very pleased to have been re-elected, and thanked all for their support. What made his election all the more pleasing to himself was the fact that he was practically a newcomer to Napanee and was not personally known in all parts of the town. He was in favor of having the minutes of the Council printed in book form.

Mr. Tustin was not surprised that he was defeated, but wished to thank all who voted for him and those who assisted him during the election.

NEW TRAFFIC LAW EFFECTIVE WITH NEW YEAR

Motorists Should Know Requirements of New Act.

On December 31st, 1923, the new Highway Traffic Act came into force throughout Ontario. For some years the traffic laws of the Province have been covered by three separate Acts. The Motor Vehicles Act dealt with the operation of motor vehicles in general; the Load of Vehicles Act contained provisions governing the weight, speed, size of loads on all vehicles, including motor trucks; and the Highway Travel Act set forth the rules of the road as effecting both motor and horsedrawn vehicles. These Acts have been amended frequently since their inception, with the result that they were difficult to understand and were, owing to the rapid advance in the use of motor vehicles, not as up to date as they might be.

During the summer and autumn of 1922, a special committee of the legislature held public sittings at various points in the Province and received the opinions of motorists, truck owners, manufacturers and police officials. As a result of the information secured, and the ideas received, it was decided to consolidate all traffic laws in one Act to be known as the Highway Traffic Act. This was presented to the legislature and passed during the 1923 session of the legislature and it would appear from a perusal of its requirements that it leaves little to be desired. It is extremely easy to understand. Separate sections deal with the various divisions of traffic laws such as speed, equipment, garage licenses, chauffeurs' licenses, weight and load, rules of the road; responsibility for accidents, traction engines, etc. Another important feature is the stating of the penalties for violations of the requirements of the Act, immediately following the description of these requirements.

A few of the more important points are briefly summarized as follows:—

The speed limits are the same as before, viz., 25 miles an hour in the country and 20 miles in cities, towns, and villages, with limits of 10 and 12½ miles an hour in corporations and in the country respectively, past intersections where the view is obscured.

Notwithstanding the speed limits stated above, anyone who drives a motor vehicle recklessly or negligently or in a manner dangerous to the public is liable to a maximum penalty of $200, shall be liable to imprisonment up to 60 days, and may have the permit for the car cancelled for a period not greater than six months. Where a speed greater than 40 miles an hour is made the offender is subject to the same penalties and magistrates have no option other than to treat it as reckless driving.

Tail lamps shall be of at least four candle power and are required to properly illuminate the number plates.

When cars are standing on the road, one light carried on the left side will be allowed if it is clearly visible for a distance of two hundred feet from the front and rear and shows white in front and red to the rear.

Brakes are subject to inspection by police officials, and if not in good order the police may order the driver to have them properly adjusted.

No flanges or clamps are allowed on wheels, which may in any way injure the road.

Cars must not be bought, sold or wrecked if the manufacturers' serial number is defaced or removed.

No vehicles which with their loads weigh more than ten tons can use the roads without special permits. Such permits may be granted by the authorities having control of the roads such as villages, towns, cities, townships, counties and the Department of Highways.

Up to December 31st, 1925, motor trucks which with their loads exceed ten tons in weight, and which were previously registered in Ontario, may receive special permits to carry a maximum load of five tons.

After January 1st, 1926, motor trucks with their loads must not weigh more than eight tons.

All vehicles with tires less then 6 inches in width must not have a greater load on any wheel than will exert a pressure of 500 pounds for each inch in width. Thus a 5-inch tire must net carry a total weight greater than 2,500 pounds. For tires over 6 inches in width the maximum weight per inch in width is 600 pounds, consequently an 8-inch tire may carry 4,800 pounds.

Broken or defaced tires will not be permitted and all solid tires must have 1¼ inches of rubber between the rim and the road.

During the months of March and April, motor trucks rated at more than one ton must not carry more than half the rated load outside of cities and towns separated from the counties for municipal purposes. During the same period all other vehicles are restricted to a wheel load of 250 pounds for each inch of tire width, without special permit.

Motor trucks must not carry a load greater than that for which they are registered.

All vehicles while carrying loads, extending over the rear for more than five feet, must carry a red flag by day and a red light at night attached to the rear of the load.

Bicycles are required to carry red lamps or reflectors at the rear.

Spotlights will be permitted, provided they are stationary and are attached to the left of the motor vehicle, with the light directed to the right-hand side striking the road within 75 feet in front of the vehicle. Movable spotlights are not allowed.

Probably the most outstanding change in the Act is that providing for the recording of convictions on the permit issued for motor vehicles and for the cancellation of the permits on three convictions for certain offenses. Permit cards will have space provided on them for the recording of convictions and motorists who are summonsed will be required to present these in court in order that the magistrates may endorse them. The amount of the fines, and the cancellation of permits, in many cases, depend on the number of convictions and the above procedure is necessary in order that magistrates may know how many previous convictions have been made. At the same time magistrates report all convictions to the Minister of Highways who may at any time for misconduct or for violations of the provisions of the Act or any regulations thereunder suspend or cancel any permit or license.

A new provision in the Act that motorists will appreciate is the limit of ten days required for the serving of summonses. In the past unnecessary time has elapsed between the offence and the serving of the summonses. The limit of ten days may however be extended by magistrates in cases where it is evident that offenders could not be served or were intentionally avoiding service of summonses.

A limitation has also been placed on the time during which civil action for recovery of damages occasioned by motor vehicles may be taken. In the past action could be brought at any time, long after details of the alleged injury were forgotten and long after witnesses could be retained. The new Act provides that no action shall be brought after six months following the damage.

All garages must obtain licenses from the Department of Highways and must keep a record, and must report to the Department all motor vehicles bought, sold, or wrecked by them, within six days. They are also required to report all cars or trucks which remain on their premises for more than two weeks without good reason.

While the above is a brief outline of the general features of the Act, it is the duty of owners or drivers of vehicles to study the requirements of the Act and become familiar with them.

All licenses and permits are issued by the Department of Public Highways, in which the administration of the Act is vested. Permits and markers can be obtained direct from the Department at Toronto or from the local agents of the Department of which there is at least one in each County of the Province. Chauffeurs' licenses and garage licenses can be secured only from the Department at Toronto.

The new Act has been published in a convenient booklet form and will be mailed on application to the Ontario Department of Public Highways, Motor Vehicles Branch, Highway Administration Building, University Avenue, Toronto.

OBITUARY

John W. Maines.

John W. Maines was born in Tweed, Ontario, Canada, on February 20th, 1837, and died at the home of his daughter in Kirkland, Wash., Dec. 5th, 1923, aged 86 years, 9 months and 15 days. He was married to Esther Rose on January 13th, 1863, and survived her just three months, she having passed away Sept. 4th.

They enjoyed over sixty years of wedded life, and five children were born to them, only two of whom survive: E. L. Maines, of Grandview, and Mrs. M. E. Harbin, of Kirkland.

He was one of a family of eleven children, and was the last surviving member of his family. Most of his life was spent in Napanee, Ont., and vicinity, until in 1905 he came to Sunnyside, and they lived there until two years ago, when failing health of the both of them made it necessary that they give up their own home, and they went to make their home with their daughter, paying an annual visit to their son, where Mrs. Maines died during the last visit.

Mr. Maines had just returned to Kirkland, and was there only two days when he was stricken and died three days later.

The funeral was held in Sunnyside, and he was laid to rest in the cemetery there beside his wife. He was a member of the Methodist Church for many years.—The Grandview Herald, Grandview, Wash.

ORIGINAL "UNCLE TOM."

Colored People Escaped to Western Ontario.

Probably few remember that the original "Uncle Tom" in Harriet Beecher Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" lived, in his later years, in Western Ontario, near Chatham. The same general locality played a part in another incident of importance, through the presence in Chatham for a time of John Brown, who there hatched the raid on Harper's Ferry on October 16, 1859, and, being afterward executed, was the subject of the well-known song "We'll Hang John Brown on a Sour Apple Tree." The movement of colored people to the western peninsula to escape from slavery was heavy for some years, and descendants of many of them still form no small part of the population in some sections.

The case of Uncle Tom is recalled by H. F. Gardiner, in the Hamilton Herald, where he says:

Reading over what I had written last week about the colored people brought to my mind a very pleasant interview I had with Rev. Josiah Henson, who called to see me at the Times office, about forty years ago, when he was visiting in Hamilton. He was the original of Uncle Tom, in Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe's famous novel. In the old days of slavery and the underground railway, Mr. Henson found his way to Kent county, in Upper Canada, and settled near Dresden. There he was visited by Mrs. Stowe, who openly announced that Mr. Henson was the hero of her story, and that Rev. William King, of the Buxton setlement, was the original of Clayton, in "Dred." Rev. Mr. Henson twice visited England and was received by the Earl of Shaftesbury and other distinguished philanthropists as the hero of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and was presented by them with a beautiful gold watch. He was presented to Queen Victoria, who gave him her autographed photograph. Hon. Archibald McKellar, who was in his later years sheriff of Wentworth county, was a particular friend of Mr. Henson when they both lived in Kent. Mr. Henson had charge of an educational institution established by the Government of Canada for the training of the colored man. Mr. Scoble, who represented West Elgin in Parliament before Confederation, had been a co-worker with Wilberforce and Buxton in the emancipation movement in England, and he took a great interest in Mr. Henson's work in Canada.

Ontario's Production of Gold.

Ontario gold production is breaking all records. The mines are turning out yellow metal at the rate of more than two millions dollars a month.

The Government report furnishes the first real opportunity presented in over a year to correctly gauge the activities of the various mines. Previous reports were so badly broken into by power shortages that they afforded no chance to arrive at conclusions as to what capacities the various mines are capable of attaining.

The latest report, when the returns for the first six months are deducted from it, shows the following:

McIntyre has now displaced Dome as the highest grade mine in Porcupine, it having recovered $11.34 per ton from the treatment of slightly over 1,000 tons daily, or $350,000 monthly.

Hollinger in the third quarter produced a million dollars a month from $8.07 ore.

Dome treated 1,350-1,400 tons daily of almost $11 rock.

Teck-Hughes continued its high average recovery.

The average content of Ontario's gold ore was $9.55, against $9.16 throughout last year.

British Columbia.

The total area of British Columbia is 353,500 square miles, of which 144,500 is absolute forest land, 20,700 square miles agricultural land, with 188,000 square miles of unproductive area. It has been estimated that the total stand of timber in British Columbia is 350 billion feet, two-thirds of which is possibly concentrated on the main land coast and Vancouver Island.

The full importance of the lumber industry to British Columbia can hardly be over-emphasized, but this particular point will naturally appeal to all who pay taxes, directly and indirectly:—the direct revenue from the forest to the Government of British Columbia last year was $3,526,865. The value of the forest products during the twelve months ending Dec. 31, 1922, was $59,500,000, which total includes the value of the lumber, pulp and paper, shingles, boxes, piles, poles, mine props, cord wood, fence posts, railway and mine ties, etc. These figures speak very fully for themselves, and the value of such an industry to the province must be of primary importance.

Manitoba's New Cabinet Minister.

The Hon. Albert Prefontaine, who has been appointed Provincial Secretary in the Manitoba Cabinet, in succession to the Hon. D. L. McLeod, is another French-Canadian, from the Province of Quebec, who emigrated to west and "made good."

He was born at Upton, Que., on October 11, 1861, the son of Firman Prefontaine and Mathilde Desauteis, his wife, and received his education at Greenfield, Mass. He was married, on February 13, 1888, to Albina L'Heureux, but she died on August 26, 1908, leaving eight children.

Mr. Prefontaine went to Manitoba some years ago and became a farmer and contractor. Later he became president of the St. Pierre Trading Company, which operated a general store. He was reeve of the Municipality of De Salaberry for four years, from 1904 to 1909.

Entering politics, he was first returned to the Legislative Assembly of Manitoba for Carillon at the general election in 1913.

"You think Crimson Gulch has a great future?"

"Yep," answered Cactus Joe. "All the boys want to get rid of the undesirable element. It's takin' time, tho', and some rough work, owin' to the differences of opinion as to who he is."

GEN. BURGOYNE'S QUALITIES.

A Man of Deserved Reputation and Engaging Personality.

Burgoyne's surrender at Saratoga has always been a saddening incident in history for British readers. It was a turning-point in the American Revolution, and left an impression of bad management or stupidity. The interpretation of Burgoyne as presented in Shaw's play, "The Devil's Disciple," revived interest in that figure, and to most people doubtless led to a reconsideration of the personality of the man. Bernard Shaw makes him a bright, witty, magnetic soldier, with a turn for a merry quip which keeps him ever the centre of interest when he is on stage.

This picture of Burgoyne is largely confirmed by reference to history, as, for instance, the description by A. G. Bradley in his Life of Lord Dorchester in the "Makers of Canada" series. Burgoyne was a man of good birth. His father, the second son of Sir John Burgoyne, was a dashing army captain, but after going through his own and his wife's money, died in the King's Bench. Young Burgoyne went from Westminster School into a cavalry regiment, and by versatile talents, aided by good looks and a winning manner, he rose rapidly both in military and social life. He took part in the brilliant capture of Valentia and was elected to the House of Commons in time to receive the thanks of the House for his services. A runaway love match with a daughter of the house of Derby furthered his fortunes after the father forgave the pair. Though with some weakness or bombast, he was an able speaker and a formidable opponent of Clive and the East India Company. He was a dramatist and versifier of considerable reputation, his plays being acted at the theatres and his poems very much in vogue in society. He was, however, attached to soldiering, though not at first anxious to serve in America. It was after the defeat of the Americans in their attacks on Quebec on December 31, 1775, that Burgoyne came out in the spring to Quebec at the head of 10,000 men and moved up the Richelieu in the invasion of the revolting colonies after the retreat of Arnold and his shattered forces.

"In short," says Bradley, "Burgoyne was a man of deserved reputation as well as engaging personality, brave, honorable and quite equal to responsible command in any continental army of the day. He was perhaps a little vain, and, from lack of special experience, not quite suited to this particular campaign, while the further fact that a general who undoubtedly was qualified for the task (Dorchester) had just been removed from command adds another mite of bad luck to the load which Burgoyne's reputation had to bear."

Distinguished Canadian Officer.

Major-General Sir Charles Macpherson Dobell, K.C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., F.R.G.S., who has just retired from the British army, with the honorary rank of lieutenant-general, has had a most distinguished military career.

He is a Canadian by birth, having been born at Quebec on June 22, 1869, the second son of the late Hon. Richard R. Dobell, of Beauvoir, Manor, Quebec. He received his education at Charterhouse and the ucation at Charterhouse and the Ont.

After graduating, he joined the Royal Welsh Fusiliers in 1890 and served successively in the Hazara Expedition and the campaigns in Crete, China, South Africa and Northern Nigeria. He commanded a division in the third Afghan war.

During the first two years of the Great War, he commanded the Allied Forces in the Cameroons, and afterwards successively the western and eastern forces of the Egyptian Expeditionary Force. Since the war he commanded the northern command in India.

Besides numerous medals, clasps and other decorations, Sir Charles is a commander of the Legion of Honor of France and Military aide-de-camp to King George. He married, in 1908, Elizabeth Ann, widow of Capt. F. L. Campbell, R.N., and daughter of the late Major Mayrick Bankes, and has one daughter.

Bananas in Canada.

Of course, all bananas consumed in Canada are imported. A small quantity, about 21,000 pounds a year, valued at $4,800, are imported in a dried or evaporated state. They come from Jamaica and are dutiable. The great bulk of the trade consists of green bananas, that is, the fruit in bunches in a natural state. Last year these imports amounted to 2,159,860 bunches, having a value of $5,211,098. Nearly all these bananas, namely, 2,159,381 bunches came to Canada from the United States, but a very small part if any, was grown in that country. They were grown for the most part in the West Indies, particularly in Jamaica, a British possession, where each year there are nearly 60,000 acres under the banana crop. Only 479 bunches were imported direct from Jamaica. The Government of Jamaica have called the attention of Canadians to the advantage of importing direct from the country of growth.

The banana flourishes best in a hot, damp, tropical climate. The northern limit of growth is reached in Florida, the Canary Islands, Corfu off the west coast of Greece, Egypt, Southern Japan, Southern Natal and Brazil.

Vancouver Grain Shipments.

About 3,850,000 bushels of grain left Vancouver for the United Kingdom and the Orient during October, according to figures recorded by the Vancouver Merchants' Exchange. The grain shipment boards show that 84,625 tons moved from Vancouver to the United Kingdom and 25,000 tons to the Orient. November bookings for the United Kingdom amount to 71,200 tons, and for the Orient 34,000 tons.

MOTHER OF LARGE FAMILY

Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Other Mothers

Hemford, N. S.—"I am the mother of four children and I was so weak after my last baby came that I could not do my work and suffered for months until a friend induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Since taking the Vegetable Compound my weakness has left me and the pain in my back has gone. I tell all my friends who are troubled with female weakness to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I think it is the best medicine ever sold. You may advertise my letter."—Mrs. GEORGE L CROUSE, Hemford, N. S.

My First Child

Glen Allen, Alabama.—"I have been greatly benefited by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for bearing-down feelings and pains. I was troubled in this way for nearly four years following the birth of my first child, and at times could hardly stand on my feet. A neighbor recommended the Vegetable Compound to me after I had taken doctor's medicines without much benefit. It has relieved my pains and gives me strength. I recommend it and give you permission to use my testimonial letter."—Mrs. IDA RYE, Glen Allen, Alabama.

"RED" RYAN IS LODGED IN TORONTO JAIL

Young Desperado Brought Back in Shackles From Minneapolis.

Norman "Red" Ryan, bank robber and jail-breaker, arrived in Toronto from Minneapolis at 8.20 Sunday morning, in charge of Dominion Inspector Duncan, Warden Tucker, of Kingston Penitentiary, and Detectives Meehan and Marran, of the Minneapolis Police Department. Ryan, in view of his desperate character, was shackled hand and foot, and manacled to the two detectives. After he had been questioned by Inspector of Detectives Guthrie at detective headquarters, Ryan was driven to the Jail, and there placed in the care of Governor Basher until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when he appeared in the Police Court, on a charge of committing robbery under arms, namely, the holding up and robbing of the Oakwood branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia. Ryan will be under the supervision of special guards.

Ryan and his guards left Minneapolis last Friday night, and came by C. P. R. by way of the Soo. Inspector of Detectives Guthrie and headquarters men boarded the train at West Toronto Station, and accompanied Duncan and his aides to the city. From the Union Station Ryan was hustled in a police car to headquarters. According to Inspector Guthrie, Ryan refused to respond to questioning, and would neither deny nor admit his participation in the Oakwood robbery.

The staff of the bank which was robbed will testify against Ryan when he is arraigned. The police already have the testimony of these witnesses on file, the evidence having been taken when extradition proceedings were commenced recently. Detective Meehan, one of the men to whom Ryan was chained, was the officer who shot Ryan in the shoulder at the time of the desperado's arrest outside the Postoffice in Minneapolis last December.

THE DANCE CURE

The number of dancing classes opened in Great Britain this year is much larger than a year ago. Hundreds of thousands of children are going in for dancing. They are as keen about it as their elders.

Parents are beginning to recognize that dancing—the right sort of dancing—is better than doctors' medicine. In fact doctors are prescribing it.

Good for Their Health.

Numbers of dancing teachers have what might be described as a "patients' list"—their pupils including children suffering from weak ankles, flat feet, anaemia, round shoulders, weak chest, etc., who have been sent to them by doctors.

A mother who followed the doctor's instructions in this respect has already found her little girl's ankles are getting stronger, while the child herself appreciates the company of other children, and loves her dancing lesson "better than anything in the world."

Taught correctly to exercise the right muscles, a child gains grace and a correct carriage from her lessons, and generally benefits in health. Moreover, dancing is becoming more and more a recognized educational subject. Morris dancing is now taught in most elementary schools. Also practically every high school has on the staff a fully-qualified dancing mistress, and the girls learn technical as well as ballroom dancing.

The Standard to be Raised.

An interesting scheme to put dancing on the same educational level as music and singing is expected to come into operation in the spring. It is to provide examination centres where teachers can enter their pupils for examination in various grades of dancing. Thus the amateur child dancer will be able to gain certificates as well as the child who is taking up dancing as a profession. The scheme which has been formulated by leading teachers of dancing, together with the Operatic Association of Great Britain, is intended to raise the standard of dancing generally, and to make it more uniform.—Daily News, London, England.

MILDEST DECEMBER IN THIRTY-TWO YEARS

December, 1923, was the mildest in 32 years, equalling the mildest December on record in the annals of McGill University Observatory. The last month of 1923 ran 10.3 degrees above normal and with June, September, October and November, completed the "warm" months of the year.

The seven other months were colder than the average, according to the record, and those who recall last summer will readily appreciate the fact. Variations below normal in these cases were as follows: January, 1.6; February, 5.1; March, 6.3; April, 2.5; May, 1.8; July, 2.5; August, 1.6.

The past year was below normal throughout, the average mean reading for the twelve months being 41.79 as compared with an average of 42.23 extending over the past 49 years.

STELLA

The Christmas holidays have been enjoyed by old and young.—Among the many teachers who are spending a vacation at their homes here, are: Misses Annie, Rose and Edna Glenn, Edna Fleming, Marjorie McGinness, R. McCormac and A. McDonald.—Miss N. Burleigh, A. Neilson and A. Scott, of Queen's; Misses G. Wemp and M. McCormac, of Kingston Business College, and Miss Ruth Marshall, R.N., spent the holidays here. —Miss Arline Miller is much improved since her operation in K. G. H.—Mrs. C. Tugwell is under the care of Dr. Northmore.—Miss Ada Pringle, of Toronto, and her brother, Archie, of London, are home for the holidays. —Misses S. Instant, N. McDonald, E. Scott and Clarence Hogeboon are home from Peterboro', where they attend Normal School.—The annual C. O. F. Ball on New Years Eve was the usual success it always has been.

"I thought the modern styles in women's clothes were ridiculous."

"But you've changed your opinion."

"Yes, I've just been looking over some photographs of fashion queens taken fifty years ago."

SMILING COURTESY.

Something of Which There Is by No Means Enough In the World.

After war is abolished the great reform next in order will be that of instituting that of universal courtesy. This reform may be said to be on its feet, even at the present time, but it is wobbly legged and needs a great deal of encouragement.

We have some very courteous individuals in our midst, most of whom were born that way and who insist on staying that way despite all temptations to the contrary, but we have some who are almost hopeless.

Courtesy is just another name for unselfishness. The greedy, self centered individual is never courteous, no matter what kind of manners he displays in public. Courtesy does not reveal itself for effect. It is not calculating. It acts out of the promptings of consideration for the just claims and rights of others, and in smaller matters at least it is even willing to make sacrifices. It is the sense of service revealed in action.

When you give your neighbor a smile instead of a frown you do him a real service, for you cause him to smile and be happy. It is courteous, therefore, to smile.

When you smother the needless word of criticism you save some one a pang. It is courteous, therefore, to control your tongue.

It doesn't matter very much at just what angle you tip your hat to a lady, although it is commendable to regard such points. The important thing is to look as though you were glad of the opportunity to tip it. That is the real courtesy.

If the world would start out to-day to follow two rules—smile and avoid mean gossip— it would be almost civilized at the end of a year.

The First Laugh Was the Last.

A personable young man with little baggage but a winning smile engaged two rooms and bath at one of the finest hotels in a western city. He spun a twenty dollar gold piece across the desk and said, "I'll stay that much anyhow, and when that's used up let me know." The room clerk smiled and turned the gold over to the cashier to be credited to the man's account. He fared sumptuously every day.

A bill for $98 was presented to the young man a week later. He frowned and handed it to the room clerk. "This is all wrong," he said. "You remember I paid you $20 in advance and said I'd take that much of your hospitality?"

"Yes, but that was only a joke," the clerk protested.

"I wasn't joking, and you can't get another cent out of me," said the personable young man. They sent for the proprietor, Colonel Sackett. He listened to the facts, glowered awhile, then broke into a genial grin and exclaimed, "I'll give you your money back and a receipt in full if you'll go over and play this trick on the —— House."

"Sorry, colonel," answered the young man, "but Mr. Blank of the —— House gave me a week's board to come over and play it here."

German Lance Heavy.

"Among the most interesting of the war trophies that have found their way over here," says the Manchester (Eng.) Guardian, "are some specimens of the German lance. It is not a wooden pole, but an eleven or twelve foot steel tube. It is very heavy, and at first seems quite unmanageable to a man of ordinary strength. But two-thirds of the way down from the head towards the butt is a wrapping of thick twine to give a grip. And if you hold it there, and there only, you find that it is so evenly poised that, as one admiring observer remarked, you could write your name with it.

"There have been some descriptions of cases where these tubular lances have crumpled up in action like an overburdened steel mast on a racing yacht. Perhaps that may be accounted for by the peculiar shape of the head. There is no point or spear of any kind. Instead, there is a solid piece of iron shaped exactly like the end of a giant poker, square and quite blunt."

Her Memory All Right.

Mrs. Geddes had a new maid, and she found it necessary to repeat her instructions several times before Nora obeyed them. The mistress had told her repeatedly about the finger bowls, and one day when there were guests they were again forgotten.

"Now, Nora," said Mrs. Geddes, extremely exercised over the omission, "this is the sixth time I've had to tell you about the finger bowls. Didn't the woman you last worked for have them on the table?"

"No, mum," replied Nora; "her friends always washed their hands before they cum."

Mean.

Mr. Scribe is a great rusher after compliments. Having given by request a reading from his own works to some ladies, he said afterward to one of them:

"It was very cruel of you, I think, to make me stand up there and read my own stuff."

"Ah," replied the young woman, "but you had your revenge, Mr. Scribe. You must have seen that we were compelled to listen."

Baked Apple Sauce.

Pare, core and quarter tart apples. Place in layers in a gallon stone jar, sprinkling each layer with sugar, using about two cups of sugar in all. Cover and bake in a very slow oven for several hours. It will be better if baked all day. When thoroughly cooked it will be rich red in color. This may be canned while hot.

Try Another Note.

Shop forewoman (to great musician, practicing on the French horn) —"The factory managers over the way send their compliments, and will you switch off on to another note, 'cos a lot of the 'ands 'ave mistaken it for the dinner hour."

HE WAS A MacINTOSH

A Scot whose name was MacIntosh, and who was proud of the fact that he was directly descended from the chief of the clan, was having a dispute over the fare he owed a taxi driver.

The man with the metre talked loud and harshly, and it angered the Highlander.

"Do you know who I am?" he demanded, proudly drawing himself up to his full height. "I'm a MacIntosh."

The taxi driver snorted.

"I don't care if you're an umbrella," he said, "I'll have my rights."

ONE ON HIM

The steamer was only a few feet from the quay when there was a sudden commotion and a man came running madly from the dock gates, shouting to the officials to wait a moment. Without pausing in his stride, he flung his bag on to the boat, took a desperate leap and landed on the deck with a crash. "Good!" he gasped, as he was assisted to his feet. "Just did it. A few seconds later and I should have missed it."

"Missed it!" exclaimed one of the passengers. "This boat is just coming in."

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Denison.

Dear Classmates,—Having learned with regret of your departure from our midst, which will necessarily result in the severing of those pleasant relations and associations of your membership in the Helping Hand Bible Class, we cannot allow this opportunity to pass without expressing to you our deep regret over the circumstances that will sever those relations. Miller's Worm Powders prove their value. They do not cause any violent disturbances in the stomach, any pain or griping, but do their work quietly and painlessly, so that the destruction of the worms is imperceptible. Yet they are thorough, and from the first dose there is improvement in the condition of the sufferer and a cessation of manifestations of internal trouble.

Warner has gone to North Bay, where he has been appointed yard master on the C. N. R. Mrs. Warner will follow him shortly and settle in their new home. We wish them all kinds of success.—Rev. J. W. She will be off duty as teller in the Standard Bank of Canada, for at least six weeks.—Mr. and Mrs. Ferrier, of The Bank of Montreal, have returned from their holidays.—Miss Pansy Curl had a narrow escape the other day, when her father's pony, Clear Grit, which she was driving, took fright and upset the rig, throwing her out on the hard pavement.—We notice the absence of Mrs. Dunn, who is in the hospital at Kingston, on account of nervous breakdown.—The new high power Colman lamp at the bank corner is a big improvement to the streets on a dark night. Mother Had to Be Parted From Baby Boy

Little Jack is in a distant city. His mother is many miles away, and true to the old saying about distance making the heart grow fonder, Jackie's mother longs and longs for a sight of her little man. Now if it were only a case of miles and dollars she might somehow or other come home occasionally, but it's more than that. She has consumption.

When she thinks of the once happy triangle—mother, father and child—its mighty hard to keep from tears. She won't let Daddy bring Jack down to see her, despite the tug at the heart strings. "No," she says, "Jackie must not come, he might get consumption, too." So Jack lives with his grandmother, Daddy works in a machine shop, and mother is faithfully obeying doctor's and nurse's orders at the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives. She hopes to be home for Christmas—healthy and happy.

Contributions to aid Muskoka Hospital in its work may be sent to Hon. W. A. Charlton, 223 College Street, Toronto.

YOUNG SOLDIER BEATS THE STOCK EXCHANGE

To make $800,000 in the course of a few months' dealings on the Stock Exchange may be unusual if by no means unprecendented, but the case of Lieut. Osborne Cutler Wood, son of Gen. Leonard Wood, Governor-General of the Philippine Islands, is unique. He made the money in New York operating by cable from Manila, and not in any securities concerned with the Philippines of which he might be presumed to have superior knowledge. The successful speculating soldier is also rather a new figure. Because of his father's position something like a scandal has been created, and some newspapers are demanding that an investigation shall be held. It is understood that the War Department objects to Lieut. Wood's adventures and that his father has bade him desist. The list of successful speculators in Wall Street is plentifully dotted with names of young men. They may not have the wisdom of their elders, but often they have the nerve, and if luck is added to them they can succeed without the experience which seems to teach that the odds are greatly against any given speculation prospering.

They Fear Livermore.

Just about the time the papers were conspicuously displaying the reports of Wood's speculations they were in rather more modest type reporting some testimony of Jesse L. Livermore before a Senate committee at Washington. Livermore is a much more feared speculator than Lieut. Wood is ever likely to be. At Washington, Mr. Livermore deposed that for his work in creating a market for certain oil flotations of Harry F. Sinclair, who is not quite so well known as his horse Zev, he was paid less than $10,000, though the operations involved $10,000,000. This, of course, was mere loose change for Livermore, who is one of the biggest of present-day operators. He began with a stake of $3 when he was office boy for a Boston stock broker, and ran it up to $10,000. He lost this and began again on $15 that he had borrowed from a friend. It is said that in ten years he was down to his last dollar seven times. In these ten years he made a dozen fortunes, only to see one after another vanish when he made one deal too many. Ten years ago he made an attempt to corner cotton which cost him $5,000,000 and forced him into bankruptcy, from which he emerged with the firm conviction that nobody could corner a commodity.

John W. Gates.

He made a notable coup in 1916, when he got advance news of President Wilson's peace note which aimed to end the war and had an immediate effect upon the stock market. But Mr. Livermore's career seems to abound more in losses than in gains, though he is reckoned to-day as able to swing many millions in any campaign that engages his attention. Though a speculating veteran he is only 46 years old. For sensational operations he is completely overshadowed by John W. Gates, who died in 1911, leaving a fortune that has now grown to $20,003,000. There probably was never an American speculator in history who would make such bets as Gates. More than once he offered to bet a million dollars, and "Bet-you-a-million" became his nickname. He began in extreme humbleness, became a salesman for barbed wire when it was a novelty, saved money, manufactured barbed wire, made a fortune, and built up industries that became some of the most important to be absorbed in the United States Steel Corporation. When the corporation declined to make him a director, he bought up several smaller concerns that had been overlooked, and gave the trust a lot of lively competition and trouble.

James R. Keene.

Had Gates stuck to the business he knew so well he would have left a larger fortune, but he was a born gambler, and one of his first ventures on a large scale was to drop a million dollars in the Chicago wheat pit. He had better luck in railway stocks, for he made a fortune in a Louisville and Nashville speculation which the Morgans were glad to relieve him of. He was also a terrific gambler on the race track, and it is common gossip that he was asked not to bet because his operations got on the front page of the newspapers and helped rouse public antagonism. Another big gambler was James R. Keene, born in England, who began life in California, became a curb speculator and astounded all and sundry by running the shares of the Crown Point and Belchere mines from $3 to $1,800. In 1873 he went East with a fortune of several millions which he expected to favorably expand in Wall Street. In the end he did not do it for when he died his estate was only $2,000,000 However, he had left a name that will always be remembered, not only on the stock exchange but in the annals of the turf, because he was perhaps the most successful breeder and racer of horses in American history.

Young Leiter.

Another sensational operator who became famous when he was no older than Lieut. Wood was Joe Leifer, the younger. In 1898 he conceived the idea of cornering the wheat crop. He had numerous millions to contribute to the enterprise and associated himself with Charles A. Pillsbury, the miller; F. H. Peavey and other Minneapolis grain men. It is not known how many millions were poured into this enterprise, but it is supposed that Leiter lost some ten millions in cash, beside paper profits of seven millions. It is unlikely that in any circumstances the deal would have succeeded, but when his associates, as Leiter later swore, began to pour into the market the holdings they had agreed to keep, there was no prospect of success, and the wheat corner collapsed. Quite as spectacular as Leiter was Daniel J. Scully, who tried to boost the price of cotton to almost unheard of figures, and who netted $3,000,000 in a single Spring's operations. His losses were in proportion, and the last heard of him was that he had been sold out.

"Betty's face is her fortune."
"Well, at any rate, it draws a lot of interest."

THE VALUE OF MANURE PER TON.

(Experimental Farms Note.)

Manure is worth exactly what it will give in net return from the increased crops produced. This amount varies widely depending upon the quality of the soil, the season, the crop and other factors but it is interesting to learn in a general way its money value per ton.

On the Central Experimental Farm Ottawa, where a four-year rotation of mangels, oats, clover and timothy was manured once every four years at the rate of fifteen tons per acre, the manure was worth gross, figuring the farm products at pre-war prices, $3.89 per ton. This is the average gross value of each ton of manure by crediting the application of fifteen tons of manure with the entire value of the increased crop produced over unmanured land during the thirteen years of the experiment. This figure is not, of course, the real net value of the manure; the net value can be secured only when account is taken of the cost of handling the increased crop, the cost of applying the manure to the land, the interest charges and the share of the machinery charges per acre. When these factors are considered the average value of the manure is $1.28 per ton. It should be remembered, however, that the larger cost of handling the increased crop and the cost of applying the manure are largely labour costs which, in many cases, may be done by the farm help by working additional hours, but without additional cash outlay. The larger yields per acre, produce results equivalent to owning a larger farm and if the larger crops can be handled without extra help, practically all of the gross value of the manure will be secured as increased net income. These labour charges, the machinery charge and the interest are used only in exact accounting to learn what to credit the live stock for each ton of manure or to know how much to pay for manure in the event it is purchased off the farm.

Other methods of evaluating manure than that of reckoning the value of the increased crops produced are sometimes suggested. Some suggest multiplying the standard analysis of manure by the market price of the fertilizer constituents as found in commercial fertilizers. Others suggest basing the value of the manure on the fertilizer value of the feed used, assuming that one-half of the nitrogen, three-quarters of the phosphorus and all the potash contained in the feed will appear in the excrement. These methods, however, overlook the variations in soils which may give increased crops from manure in some instances several times as much as in others. Such being the case the Ottawa figures should be accepted only as a general guide until actual trials show the real value on different soils.

In any case, the value of the manure per ton will be increased by uniform spreading, by using a light to medium application of ten to fifteen tons per acre rather than a heavy application, and by applying the manure to root crops, corn, potatoes, and hay rather than to grain crops. Where bad weeds are not present, unrotted manure will prove more economical than rotted.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

Lawyer—Well, what shall we ask for—trial by judge or jury?

Client—Take the Judge, Doc. I've done plumbing for nearly everybody in this town.

Why suffer from corns when they can be painlessly rooted out by using Holloway's Corn Remover.

A Power Of Its Own.—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has a subtle power of its own. All who have used it know this and keep it by them as the most valuable liniment available. Its uses are innumerable and for many years it has been prized as the leading liniment for man and beast.

Willie—Pa, teacher says we are here to help others.

Pa—Yes, that's so.

Willie—Well, what are the others here for?

Miller's Worm Powders prove their value. They do not cause any violent disturbances in the stomach, any pain or griping, but do their work quietly and painlessly, so that the destruction of the worms is imperceptible. Yet they are thorough, and from the first dose there is improvement in the condition of the sufferer and a cessation of manifestations of internal trouble.

Muggins—What makes you think your son is ambitious to be a railroad man?

Buggins—Just from the way he slams the doors.

Nights of Agony come in the train of esthma. The victim cannot lie down, and sleep is driven from his brain. What grateful relief is the immediate effect of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. It banishes the frightful conditions, clears the passages, and enables the afflicted one to again sleep as soundly and restfully as a child. Insist on the genuine at your nearby druggist's.

Jane—What is the difference between firmness and obstinacy?

Joseph—Firmness is a notable characteristic of women; obstinacy is a lamentable defect in men.

Internally and Externally It Is Good.—The crowning property of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is that it can be used internally for many complaints as well as externally. For sore throat, croup, whooping cough, pains in the chest, colic and many kindred ailments it has qualities that are unsurpassed. A bottle of it costs little and there is no loss in always having it at hand.

"This bootlegging must be a good business. You're probably making a fortune."

Husband and Wife Both Receive Benefit

Mr. N. St. Hilaire Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills to All Who Suffer.

Quebec Man Who Suffered From Pains in the Back Got Relief Immediately Through Using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

East Angus, Que., Jan. 7th, (Special).—"Both my wife and myself have obtained great relief through using Dodd's Kidney Pills."

So says Mr. N. St. Hilaire who lives in this place. "I took 2 boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills for pains in my kidneys and back and they did me good immediately. I always keep a box in the house. My wife has also used them and they have done her much good, and she is very grateful. To-day we are quite relieved, thanks to Dodd's Kidney Pills. I recommend them to all who suffer from kidney trouble and bad back."

Dodd's Kidney Pills stimulate and strengthen weak kidneys. You will be surprised how quickly they begin to cleanse and purify, to soothe and heal the kidneys, at the same time backaches and rheumatism disappear.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make sound kidneys.

A Woman's Heroism.

Archdeacon Owen, of Nyanza, East Africa, tells the story of a Nandi woman convert. She and her husband had begun to be interested in Christianity at the same time. The husband later decided that he did not like the restraints of Christianity and insisted that his wife also should give up her connection with the church. Finding her obstinate, he beat her, systematically, but did not succeed in altering her resolution to stand by her faith in Christ. One day he tied her hands and feet with rope, made a fire, and placed her on it for a short time. The fire and the burns failed to shake the woman's determination, so the husband placed her on the fire again and again, and for longer periods, but quite failed to break her spirit. He then threatened to cut her throat. Her brother afterwards took her away from her husband's house. As the woman's story was confirmed by others, the archdeacon decided to waive the period of the catechumenate in her case, and next day received her into the church by baptism.

Cradle of American Methodism.

Barratt's chapel, near Frederica, Del., is to Methodists what Independence hall is to Americans. It was in this chapel Bishops Coke and Asbury first met in America, held a council with eleven ministers and arranged for the organization of the Methodist church as it exists in this country to-day. During the year 1780 the chapel was erected on ground donated for that purpose by Phillip Barratt, a member of the Delaware assembly. Phillip Barratt was one of the men who entertained and protected Asbury during the revolution. It was on Sunday, Nov. 14, 1784, that plans were discussed which resulted in calling the first conference of the Methodist church at Baltimore, Dec. 25, 1784. Bishop Coke was preaching in Barratt's chapel when Asbury arrived. After the services they went to the house of Mrs. Miriam Barratt, and during the conversation which followed plans were laid which resulted in the foundation of the present church.

FOUGHT IN THE TREES.

Curious Duel Between a Pair of Fire Eating Frenchmen.

In the swashbucking days of the early part of the nineteenth century the dueling hero in France was the Marquis Merle de Sainte-Marie, whose affairs of honor were almost incessant. One of these is said to have been so ridiculous that it helped to set in motion the current of feeling that has since made duelling so much less honorable than it once was.

It appears that one day there called upon the marquis one Pierrot d'Isaac, himself a famous duellist. Now, in French pierrot means sparrow and merle means blackbird.

D'Isaac struck himself on the chest with emphatic dignity. "Marquis," said he, "I am a Bonapartist and you are a royalist. Moreover, I am the sparrow and you are the blackbird. It seems to me that there is one bird of us too many."

"I quite agree with you, monsieur," politely replied the marquis, "and my choice is pistols, and, as is appropriate for birds of our species, let us fight in the trees."

Pierrot d'Isaac was agreeable to this unique suggestion, and as if it were not a sufficiently ridiculous thing that one man should challenge another because his name was Sparrow and the other Blackbird the duel was actually fought from trees. The seconds stood on the ground below.

At a given signal the pistols were fired, and there was a rustling among the leaves of one of the chestnut trees. Pierrot d'Issac came tumbling to the ground "like a ripe chestnut," as one of Sainte-Marie's seconds expressed it, whereupon Merle de Sainte-Marie in a factious mood began to chirp triumphantly in imitation of the song of the blackbird. D'Issac waited till he had recovered from his wound and then challenged Sainte-Marie for the chirp.

This time there was nothing amusing about the encounter. It was fought with swords, and Sainte-Marie was badly wounded. The sparrow had avenged himself on the blackbird.

Explained.

"Come here, Bates!" roared the master of an English village school one morning. "I have a letter from Mr. Johnson informing me that his son is unable to attend school in consequence of a thrashing you inflicted upon him yesterday. Is that a fact, Bates?"

"N-n-no, sir," quailed Bates. I never touched him."

But the master did not believe him, and two minutes later Bates was asking permission to stand up in class.

On the following day Johnson returned and the master sought justification for his act before the whole class. "Did you tell your father that Bates thrashed you, Johnson?"

"No, sir," piped the youth.

The master's countenance clouded. "But your father wrote to me, saying that Bates did it."

"I know 'e did," sniveled Johnson. "It was Billy Beauchamp did it, sir, but father couldn't spell Beauchamp, and so he wrote Bates."

An Awful Possibility.

Breathlessly he rushed into the barber shop. His hat, collar and necktie were off in a trice, and he sprang into the chair over which old Fritz presided.

"I want a shave and a hair cut, and I have only fifteen minutes," he said.

Old Fritz stopped to consider. After a few seconds he asked:

"Vitch do you vant the most?"

"A shave."

The shave took about eleven minutes.

As Fritz removed the towel from his customer's neck he said:

"Mine friend, don't never again ask a barber to cut your hairs and shafe you in fifteen minutes, pecause some time you might find a barber vat would do it."

Vesuvius.

Vesuvius cut but a small figure in history till the latter half of the first century of the Christian era. In 73 B. C. its crater served as a camp of refuge to a band of gladiators. In 63 A. D. the serenity was broken by a violent grumbling that manifested itself in a severe earthquake that shook up the surrounding region. For sixteen years subterranean rumbling continued at intervals, and in the year 79 A. D. came the great catastrophe in which Herculaneum and Pompeii were overwhelmed. In 1631 there was another terrible explosion, and since that time Vesuvius has seldom been at rest for many years together.

A Russian Heroine.

A young Russian lady, referred to in the Russian press as Mlle. B., has been recommended for the St. George's Cross, the V. C. of Russia. She is the daughter of a Russian captain of artillery, and accompanied her father's battery to the front as a private, after cutting her hair short. She has taken part in a number of battles near Augustovo, and is now lying wounded at a Petrograd hospital.

Date Macaroons.

Stone, weigh and chop dates fine; there should be a pound. Cut half a pound of almonds (without blanching) in strips. Beat the whites of four eggs until stiff and dry, cut and fold in a cupful of granulated sugar, add the dates and thoroughly mix; then add the almonds and drop the mixture with a teaspoon on tins about an inch apart and bake in a very moderate oven. Bake until dry.

Rabbit With Dumplings.

Boil the rabbit until tender along with slices of salt pork. Season with salt and pepper. Make a stiff batter with a pint of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a teaspoonful of salt and a little water. Drop a tablespoonful at a time into the boiling gravy and boil for half an hour.

Wild Dogs of Alaska

The wolf that first pulled down a deer at men's bidding was the first dog, according to Ransome Sutton, who writes:

Tamed and trained wolves, in different lands, gave rise to varying breeds, and, in the making of domestic breeds, the Indian wolf, the coyote and jackal certainly, and probably hyenas, dingoes, dholes and pariahs, played parts.

Since the wild dog days mankind has been able, by crossing and selecting varieties, to manipulate canine flesh and blood so as to produce almost any kind of a dog desired. Too much manipulation along lapdog lines, however, takes all virility out of the strain, as witness the helpless little Pekinese.

Where courage, weight and strength are wanted to draw human beings out of snow the powerfully built St. Bernards were produced, and where only dog teams can pull sleds through Arctic snows the malamutes, or "huskies," were developed by the Eskimos.

Capt. Samuel Fancher, who drove dog teams in Alaska and is now living at the Elks' Club, Pasadena, says half-breeds stand the storms, whereas even hardened quarter-breeds succumb. But, as black troops fight better under a white colonel, huskies work better under a white colonel, of a domestic dog. Still better than a domestic dog leader," says Capt. Fancher, "is a Mazinka (Eskimo squaw.) With her mushing ahead there is no stopping the huskies."

Huskies are smaller than their fathers or mothers, usually weighing forty and fifty pounds. They inherit the wolf's hardihood, cunning and resourcefulness, together with the dog's intelligence. But you had better not pet your husky, both for your sake and his; he is liable to bite you and you are liable to spoil him with ideas of comfort and familiarity.

Once a husky acquires the habit of sleeping in a tent or of feeding from man's hand he is no longer a husky—nor is he yet a dog, for he bares his teeth at the slightest provocation, and things provoke him which would please a dog. At sight of blood huskies go wild. Smoked fish or frozen meat tossed toward them in the snow—that's the way they are fed—and they are fed only once each day.

Huskies are now to Alaskans what the horse, mule and ox were to the people of Canada until motor mechanisms were invented to relieve them of the heavy work. Six huskies and one dog-leader constitute the average sled them. Seven hundred miles to the northward of Nome, Capt. Fancher says, he saw spirit thermometers drop to 76 below zero, "where the sun plays round like a wagon wheel and a man's breath pops like a pistol," yet huskies pull hard all day, sleep beneath the snow at night and what they get out of it is a chunk of frozen meat—once in twenty-four hours.

One reason huskies do not make good leaders is that they cannot learn, or at least pretend not to understand human language: they pay no attention to "gee" or "haw."

Very few huskies are raised by Eskimos in Alaska, more are raised by white men than by the natives. It seems to make no difference what breed of dog the mother happens to be, the huskies all look alike. Nearly all the prize-winning huskies, however, have been mothered by sheep dogs.

Canadians in London Banking.

Canadians in the banking circles of old London have not been numerous, and when, a year or two ago, Mr. E. R. Peacock, formerly of Toronto, became a director of the Bank of England, it was recognized that new ground had been broken and a new honor given the financiers of the Dominion. A reader now sends a clipping from the Guelph Mercury in 1876, concerning a Canadian of that early day who won honor in London fiannce. This was Robert G. Fergusson, son of Hon. Adam Fergusson, of Woodhill, Ont., who had just been elected to the high position of governor of the Union Bank of London, England. Twenty years earlier Mr. Fergusson had left the service of the Bank of British North America in Canada, after having managed several of its branches. He went to New York as junior partner in a house of high standing, largely engaged as shipping merchants in the South American and Pacific trades, and later was for a time resident partner on the Pacific side. Then he married the daughter of the head of the house and retired with a large fortune. Settling later in England, his experience and financial ability led to his appointment as governor of the Union Bank, a London organization second only in size to the London and Westminster, with deposits and acceptance then of $85,000,000.

Eskimos Fight Singing Duels.

A curious custom of certain Eskimos of Northern Canada, who settle disputes by a "song duel" in which the rivals taunt each other by improvising witty and insulting ballads, is reported by Christian Leden, Norwegian explorer. Phonographic records of such a contest were made by Mr. Leden in the course of his recent third expedition to the Eskimo tribes, a despatch from Paris to the New York Tribune states. The "duels" are held, he says, before the assembled members of the tribe, and the contestant whose taunts make the crowd laugh loudest is adjudged victor in a solemn ceremony. The explorer has evolved a theory that the Eskimo tribes are of the same stock as the North American aborigines on the basis of their songs, which "carry implications of being entirely different in origin from the Asiatic, and are clearly related to the folk-lore of the Canadian Indian."

"What's your idea of wresting victory from the jaws of defeat?"

"There are always good jobs in private life," rejoined Senator Sorghum. "One way is to make your defeat sufficiently conspicuous to be effectual as a 'situation wanted' ad."

A DOCTOR IN A TIN BOX!

Sounds strange, does it not? Yet that is how Mr. J. Cartier says Zam-Buk is regarded by his family. Mr. Cartier, who is a member of the family of the late Sir George Cartier, is Justice of the Peace and Assistant Clerk of the Circuit Court, Montreal. He first discovered the wonderful power of Zam-Buk by using it for eczema, which it completely ended. Since then his family is never without it.

"Allow me to express my gratitude," he writes, "for the benefit I have derived from the use of Zam-Buk. I have proved that it is, without doubt, the finest remedy for eczema. Its general healing and curative powers are immense. We call it 'Our Family Doctor,' and are never without it."

Mothers should see that Zam-Buk is always handy, for not only does it end pain, draw out inflammation and prevent blood-poisoning, but it heals skin diseases and injuries in the shortest time possible. All dealers, 50c. box.

ALBERTA'S RECORD YIELD.

Year's Produce, Including Coal, Valued at $300,000,000.

In a year that has ben outstanding from an agricultural point of view, in that the Dominion, with a smaller sown acreage than that of the previous year, has produced a uniformly greater crop than even the record of 1922, the most signal and noteworthy feature would seem to be the phenomenal grain production of the Province of Alberta. This province, which stakes its hopes of prosperity rather in diversified farming than in grain growing, has achieved feats in grain production that will doubtless be sent down for all time in the cereal production history of the American continent.

The wheat yield of this province is estimated to be 157,467,000 bushels by the Dominion Government as against 64,973,000 bushels in 1922, though local authorities are inclined to place it even higher. This would give the province for the season an average production of 26.50 bushels to the acre, as against 11.25 yast year. The Government estimate of the production of oats is 90,005,000 bushels, as against 35,519,000 in 1922, an average for the year 1923 of 48.75 bushels to the acre. The barley yield is estimated to be 13,-423,000 bushels as against 6,238,000 bushels, an average of 35 bushels to the acre.

Since the publication of the Government's figures, estimates of Alberta's wheat crop have taken a jump as threshing returns continued to pour in. George Lane, one of the most extensive farmers in the province, who gave a preliminary estimate to 150,000,000 bushels, has increased his figures to 200,000,000. John I. McFarland, president and general manager of the Alberta Pacific Grain Company, estimates the total between 175,000,000 and 200,-000,000. Both Mr. Lane and Mr. McFarland figure that the average wheat yield will be at least 35 bushels to the acre, as against the previous best average of 31.30 bushels in 1915, which set a world's record which has endured until this year.

There is no doubt that in 1923, in all respects, Alberta has not only achieved a record yield for the province, but a remarkable one in agricultural annals, this not alone in the aggregate crop, but in the acreage average and general uniformity. Wheat weighing more than 60 pounds to the bushel has been reported from all parts of the province, while there are frequent occurrences of oats weighing more than 40 pounds to the bushel and barley 50 pounds to the bushel.

The season has manifestly been an outstanding one for Alberta. In some wheat areas hailed out during the summer, where insurance has been collected, crops have revived to the extent of yields up to 25 bushels to the acre. This proves again the wonderful fertility of Western Canadian soil, given the right combination of climate and other growing conditions.

At a conservative estimate all the crops, including root vegetables, alfalfa and other fodder crops, the approximate value is $100,542,204. The value of dairy products is $150,488,-519, and live stock $112,691,132. In addition, there is the wealth derived by the province from its coal industry. Taking last year's figures as a basis—and the output this year has been increased—at the all-round average price of $4 at the pithead, the amount in dollars and cents represents the respectable item of $23,-904,000.

Taking the population of Alberta at 650,000, if the province's wealth were divided up equally, every man, woman and child in the province would receive approximately $600.

Canada's Fishing Industry.

The existing fishing industry of Canada is the growth of the past half-century, says the Bureau of Statistics in a return on fisheries. In 1844, the estimated value of the catch was only $125,000. It doubled in the following decade, and by 1860 had well passed the million mark. Ten years later it was six millions, and in 1911, thirty-four millions. In 1922 it was over forty-one millions. The highest record was reached in 1918, with over sixty millions. These figures represent the total values of fish marketed, whether in a fresh, dried, canned or otherwise prepared state. Meanwhile, the number of employes has mounted to over 80,000, and the total capital invested to over $50,000,000 in certain years, though the industry as a whole did not progress proportionately with the marked industrial expansion which set in after 1896 in Canada.

Among individual fish products the cod and salmon have long disputed the primacy; if the record back to beginning is taken the cod is the most valuable fishery; in the past fifteen years, however, the salmon has definitely taken the lead and the heavy pack and high price of lobsters have more than once sent cod down to third place. This, naturally, has affected the relative standing of the provinces, British Columbia now occupying the leadership that formerly belonged to Nova Scotia.

Penny Bank Flourishes.

A school population of 125,000 pupils in 269 schools is served by the Penny Bank of Ontario, according to the eighteenth annual report, for the year ending June 30 last. The head office in and about Toronto serves 92 schools.

The bank's financial statement under the head of liabilities shows deposits from Public schools totalling $689,679.40, of which sum a total of $437,128.26 is from the Toronto school children. Surplus funds of $24,063.14 are reported. The bank's assets include Dominion of Canada bonds, totalling $630,371.36; deposits in Post Office Savings Banks, with interest accrued, totalling $4,938.65; securities held totalling $28,7[illegible]0.37, and cash on hand in banks totalling $97,459.55, making the grand total of assets $761,509.93.

The teacher was giving the class a lecture on "gravity".

"Now, children," she said, "it is the law of gravity that keeps us on this earth."

"But please, teacher," inquired one small child, "how did we stick on before the law was passed?"

HARLOWE

(For last week.)

The last few days have been more like winter.—Xmas passed off very quietly, with but few visitors from a distance.—Most of the young men have returned to the lumber camps, where they have been employed. — Drawing wood is the order of the day as the sleighing is good.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wood and family, also Mrs. C. B. Bott and daughter, Florence, spent Xmas Day at Mr. Russell Clancy's, Dead Creek.—Mr. and Mrs. Ora Loyst, Dead Creek, spent Xmas at John W. Thompson's.—Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wheeler and family spent Sunday at Johnny Miller's. — Our stage driver, Mr. Fred Wood, enjoyed his holiday on New Years Day, the Department granting all mail carriers a holiday.—Many were saddened at the sudden death of Chas. Markle, as he was of such a cheerful disposition, and was well liked by both old and young, and much sympathy is extended to his bereaved family.—Mr. Geo. Connors returned to-day from his home at Spencerville, where he has spent his Xmas holidays He is foreman in Jas. Vogan's lumber camp.

"NO SMOKING"

Many ministers could, from personal experience, tell of strange names bestowed upon infants at their baptism, but few could equal the following story recently told by the Bishop of Sodor and Man. A mother who was on the look-out for a good name for her child, saw on the door of a building the word "Nosmo". It attracted her, and she decided that she would adopt it. Some time later, passing the same building, she saw the name "King" on another door. She thought the two would sound well together, and so the boy was baptized "Nosmo King Smith." On her way home from the church where the baptism had taken place, she passed the building again. The two doors on which she had seen the names were now closed together, and what she read was not "Nosmo King", but "No Smoking".

Hubby — Really, Ethel, seven pounds for a hat is the height of extravagance !

Wife—Well, my dear, I simply have to look nice when I am with you; you're so distinguished-looking.

Listen!

Have you heard about Peps? Peps is a scientific preparation put up in pastille form, which provides an entirely new and effective treatment for coughs, colds, chest and throat troubles.

Peps contain certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapor, and are breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the lungs.

While no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps fumes get there direct, and healing commences.

FREE TRIAL Cut out this article, write across it the name and date of this paper, and mail it (with 1c. stamp to pay return postage) to Peps Co., Toronto. A free trial packet will then be sent you. All druggists and stores sell Peps. 50c box.

Narrow Escape.

What might have been a fatality occurred at the residence of Mr. Herb Snider at Storms Corners, on Sunday night. While in the hay loft the lantern upset, setting fire to the hay. Mr. Snider, who was alone, having nothing at hand to fight the fire, tried to stamp it out, but it kept on gaining on him and at last he had to make his escape by way of a small hole cut in the floor of the mow. In his haste he slipped at the edge of the hole and fell to the floor below, where he lay for some time as he was hurt so badly he was unable to move. At last he was able to crawl from the building and in a short time afterward all that was left of it was a heap of smouldering ruins. Mr. Snider is now recovering from his injuries.

PRESENTED PRIZE BOOK

During the Christmas holidays, a prize book was presented by the "U. E. Loyalist" Chapter, I. O. D. E., to Master Wm. Carr, for having obtained the highest marks in history at the Entrance examinations.

The giving of prizes for such attainments by pupils of the Public Schools is one part of the multitude of work undertaken by the Daughters of the Empire. It is a policy which the "U. E. Loyalist" Chapter will continue to pursue in regard to examinations for history in the Public Schools.
